

Eleven file in governing board race

Eleven persons have filed for five Hartnell Board of Trustees seats slated for the Nov. 6 ballot.

The governing board will welcome at least three new faces to its body, with trustees James Fassett, M.D., James Schwefel and Granville Perkins opting not to seek re-election.

Incumbents York Gin and Allen Caldeira have refiled for their current seats. Gin is unopposed in the race for the district 3 seat, which encompasses the Alisal area.

Caldeira is being challenged by Phyllis Turner for the district 5 seat, which covers the Salinas City Elementary School District.

In district 2, Susan James Carrasco and John Metzger are vying for the position currently held by Fassett. The district encompasses the Gonzales area.

Filed for the district 4 seat which covers the North Monterey County and Castroville area are Gustavo De La Torre and Jeremy Estabrooks. The seat will be vacated by Perkins.

Seeking election for the seat currently held by Schwefel are Daniel Collins; Eugene Whitford, Thomas Hubert and Lloyd Lowry, Jr. Schwefel's district 6 seat covers the Washington, Santa Rita, Spreckels, Graves and Lagunita School districts.

Two governing board members are not up for election this year. Retaining their seats on the board will be William Bryan and governing board president Craig Wiley.

Police probe student affiliated organization

Salinas Police officers are conducting an investigation into the activities of an organization known as "Campus Cue."

Jeannie Nelson, president of the Associated Students of Hartnell College (ASHC) said commissioner of facilities Amy Leker was approached by a representative of "Campus Cue" with a contract offer. Free book covers printed with the name "Hartnell College" were offered in the contract, at no obligation to the students.

In return for providing the book covers, "Campus Cue" proposed to sell advertising to local merchants. The merchants would also have their names on the book covers, students would get free covers, and "Campus Cue" would get the profits from the advertising sales.

"I realized that Campus Cue was a fairly new organization," Miss Nelson says. "So I did further research by calling down to their main office in Hollywood."

Miss Nelson then signed the contract and mailed it to Campus Cue, without authorization from the ASHC adviser, Dr. Vic Willits. Miss Nelson says she tried to contact Dr. Willits for his approval, but he was on vacation at the time.

After several weeks, the college was notified that Campus Cue was believed to be using the college's name to solicit illegal contributions. The Salinas Police Department was contacted and officers are investigating the allegation.

Student leaders plan fair, forum, trip to talent show

Events, including a Christmas Fair, Candidates Forum, and a trip to a talent show, will occupy students in the coming weeks and months.

Candidates for governing board seats and students will have a chance to get acquainted Oct. 17 and 18, at 7 p.m. and 11 a.m. respectively.

Students and members of the public are invited to attend the Candidates Forum on those days, sponsored by the Associated Students of Hartnell College (ASHC).

A limited number of Hartnell's talented students may attend the California Talent Association showcase Sept. 30 in San Francisco. The talent organization will preview bands for dances and entertainment. Interested students may sign up on the sheet provided on the bulletin board located outside the ASHC office in the student lounge. Admission is free and transportation will be provided. Space is limited to the first 15 people who sign up.

Free concert slated

Two Hartnell clubs are sponsoring a free concert for voter registration from 11 a.m. to noon Oct. 4 in Hyde Park.

Featured band will be Hammerhead.

"Rock for Voter Registration" is part of a Student Activist Club (SAC) and MEChA effort to register Hartnell students for the November election.

Sometime before Christmas vacation (which begins Dec. 17), the ASHC plans a Christmas Fair. Campus organizations are all invited to participate in the event, which will include artwork and dancers.

For more information about events planned by the ASHC, contact the student officers at ext. 393.

Hart registration rolls show increase

Fall semester enrollment at Hartnell is up seven percent from last year's total, according to statistics released by Lucy McKenzie, Hartnell registrar.

As of Friday, Sept. 7, 3,350 students were enrolled in day classes and 2,655 students were registered in evening classes. Total enrollment is 6,005.

Registration in day classes has decreased 10.9 percent, but enrollment in evening classes has jumped 24.2 percent. McKenzie said the lull in day class enrollment might be attributed to the economy; which could have made it necessary for students to work during the day and attend evening classes.

According to dean of humanities Dr. Manuel Rivera, 13 English classes have already been cancelled. Three were off-campus courses, and four were English IA classes. Dr. Rivera had no explanation for the decrease in enrollment.

Canaday posts office hours

Student representative to the governing board Jim Canaday will hold two office hours per week.

Canaday, the first elected student representative to the board, has scheduled office hours from 7 to 8 p.m. Tuesday and 1 to 2 p.m. Wednesday in the Associated Students of Hartnell College (ASHC) office.

possible trade of college-owned land in the Boronda area.

After rejecting a proposal to swap the 153 acres with the Oakdale Development Company, the board voted the authorization at a Sept. 18 meeting. Trustee Granville Perkins called the proposal offered "not sweet enough yet."

The company owns land on either side of the Hartnell acreage, located near the Salinas Golf and Country Club. At previous meetings, the company proposed an outright sale or virtual acre-for-acre swap, but trustees nixed the proposals.

At a Sept. 4 meeting, governing board member James Schwefel called board reaction to initial proposals by the company "either lukewarm or negative."

Also at the Sept. 4 governing board meeting, trustees approved:

--the awarding of a contract to reroof the Animal Health Technology building to the Ross Roofing Company. The company submitted the lowest of three bids, at $13,685.

--approved a college application for exemption from the California 50 percent law. The law requires that 50 percent of revenues at California colleges be spent on classroom instruction. Hartnell spent approximately 46.7 percent of revenue on classroom instruction. The college is asking for an exemption of $219,006.

--approved the addition of a certified position, Computer Assistant Instructor Coordinator, to the Data Processing program.

--approved the 1979-80 Associated Students of Hartnell College budget. The budget calls for expenditures of $19,600. Revenue for the year is estimated at $13,200.

--approved the sale of securities with a market value of $5,260 as of Aug. 21. The securities were owned in the American General Bond Fund. The bond had decreased $925 since March. Trustees agreed to liquidate other securities owned when economically feasible.

Sentinel staff sets policy for coming year

We acknowledge our duty to provide a forum for our readers; to behave in a professional manner according to the Canons of Journalism; to learn from our mistakes; and to provide factual information on subjects of vital interest to our readers.

We acknowledge our duty - and our willingness - to put our best efforts into the production of the Hartnell Panther Sentinel.

Editorial policy

It is the policy of the Hartnell Panther Sentinel: to focus on and report all facets of the Hartnell campus, students and faculty. City or other news related to Hartnell will also be covered.

to provide a forum for the Hartnell community members (e.g., any Hartnell student, faculty member or other member of the Hartnell community) to express their views on any topic through a letters to the editor column.

to provide responsible coverage of minority events, to present features on minority students and faculty, as well as features on non-minority students and faculty, and to encourage members of minority groups to join the staff of the Sentinel.

to insure that stories reported in its pages will be timely, factual, informative and well-balanced (though sometimes concise.)

Editorial Platform 1979-80

We will encourage:

the opening of channels of communication between students, faculty and administration.

briefly. . . . .

A $6 million dollar insurance claim against Hartnell college by a Cabrillo woman was denied Aug. 21 by the governing board.

The claim, which asked for $1 million dollars in general damages and $5 million dollars in special damages, was filed by a 20-year-old woman who said she was raped May 7 in Soquel by a former inmate of the Soledad Correctional Institution. She said she met the former inmate through the Hartnell College Soledad prison program.

The woman also lodged a $6 million dollar claim against Cabrillo College, because she said she was introduced to the former inmate by an instructor who taught at Cabrillo and the Soledad extension of Hartnell.

The former inmate stood trial in Santa Cruz County on charges of rape and attempted sodomy. He was acquitted of the charges in early September. An appeal is planned.

At an Aug. 21 governing board meeting, the board of trustees adopted a budget of $10.6 million dollars for the 1979-80 school year.

Approximately 80 percent of the budget will be provided by the state government. The budget is approximately $195,000 over the 1978-79 budget.

State Proposition 13 bailout bill funds will contribute heavily to the school's funding. The college received 70 percent of its funds last year from the bailout monies.

Former Hartnell Dean of Instruction Art Rasmuson resigned over the summer, effective Aug. 13.

What do you have to say?

Traditionally (or so I thought) the Classroom, Administration and Counseling Building was used for solid lecture courses. Merrill Hall (tagged as the science building) was designed to hold classes pertaining to science (again, so I thought). Even the Technology building (affectionately labelled the "tech" building) held classes which had something to do with what its name implied. (I thought.)

But a brief glance at the Hartnell College fall schedule of classes, 1979, proves once and for all that there are no absolutes. The stoically glaring Panther on the front cover of the bright orange booklet holds the pieces to a 'Guess What this Building is Meant For' game.

A Spanish class is being taught one night a week in the Technology building. Business Math, Composition and Reading, Interior Design, Child Development and German are all being taught in Merrill Hall. Not to mention Filipino Cooking.

Several non-athletic courses are being taught in the auxiliary gym, including the Legal Aspects of Evidence.

Some unlucky Spanish instructors are teaching their language classes in the CRAC building, Merrill Hall, Technology building and the Visual Arts Facility. English teachers are making tracks between the CRAC building, Merrill Hall and the auxiliary gym, and Psychology instructors are walking busily from the CRAC building to portable units in back of the Merrill Hall.

Whether this is part of a mass social interaction program (how often do Science instructors and Spanish teachers meet?) or a mass revitalization-exercise program, one thing is for sure:

We'll have the healthiest faculty in the Coast Conference League.

Panthers squeak by Foothill in season opener, 21-20

It took two touchdowns in the final three minutes of the football game to propel the Hartnell College Panthers to a hair-splitting 21-20 victory over the Foothill Owls Sept. 15.

Fullback Tom Peterson punched over the final touchdown from the two-yard line with 51 seconds remaining on the clock. With the extra point converted by kicker Edgar Romero, the Panthers locked up the game.

The final score was set up by a 55-yard pass play from quarterback Rick Rebozzi to Mike Foletta.

Sparking the come-from-behind win was a series of playbook perfect passes from Rebozzi to his favorite receiver Robbie Rocha. An aerial of 51 yards to Rocha set up the Panther's second touchdown of the night. Then, with three defenders covering him, Rocha snagged a 33-yard pass from Rebozzi in the end zone for the second score.

Hartnell's first score of the night came in the second quarter, when linebacker Tyrone Edgerton blocked a Foothill punt and ran the ball 22 yards for the initial touchdown.

Hartnell opens its home game season with a visit from the Santa Rosa Bearcubs at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow. That clash in Salinas High School stadium is a departure from the Panther's traditional contest against the College of the Redwoods.

In another pre-season game, the Panthers face Reedley College at 7:30 p.m. Sept. 29 in Reedley stadium.

Accreditation reaffirmed during summer

Hartnell College's status as an accredited college was reaffirmed in a report sent to superintendent-president Dr. Gibb R. Madsen during the summer.

The five-year accreditation was awarded by the Accrediting Commission for Community and Junior Colleges, Western Association of Schools and Colleges, at a June 18 and 19 meeting. Representatives from the body visited Hartnell March 20 through 22, 1979.

In a report, released at a July 17 governing board meeting, the evaluation team said, "Hartnell College exemplifies many of the strengths of the California Community College movement."

The team identified key problems at the college as the advent of collective bargaining, which has "produced a major disagreement concerning the role of department chairpersons and a major disagreement regarding the eligibility of part-time teachers as potential members of a bargaining unit." The report said a Public Employment Relations Board (PERB) ruling in January that department chairpersons were not faculty caused some morale problems in the faculty.

Since the release of the report, department chairpersons have been eliminated in favor of six associate deans, who are part of the management bargaining unit.

The report also said the passage of Proposition 13 had a negative effect on college revenues. The evaluation team attributed more staff anxieties to administrative and board decisions because of Prop. 13 that have affected programs.

"A series of turnovers in key administrative positions in the office of instruction" have also had an unsettling effect on the college staff, according to the report.

A major concern with the evaluation team was the lack of "an organized institutional research program," which would "restore some logic to the dialogue that takes place and provide some significant results to assist in decision making." The team said the absence of such a program is producing an "irrational atmosphere that is generating many anxieties that might not exist otherwise."

The team, in its report, urged the college to institute "a set of written each other and arrange to run in pairs or groups for greater safety.

The board will be posted in the P.E. building, across from Coach Tony Teresa's office.

The Hartnell Panthers and Fresno City College battled to a 4-4 tie during their first soccer game of the year Sept. 14.

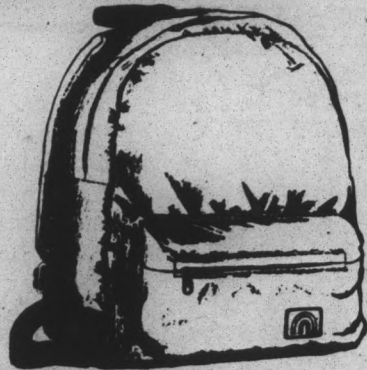

The Panthers are gearing up for their next contest, the Modesto Tournament, which will be at 10:30 a.m. Sept. 2 in Modesto.

policies and written regulations that are consistently honored by all sides."

In the same vein, the report said "the board of trustees should concentrate on the formation of a board policy and avoid administrative decisions. The board needs to give its full support to the president in the implementation and administration of the policy, and also needs to hold the president responsible and accountable when in its judgement policies and regulations have not been appropriately administered."

Aurora Mendez speaks at the Mexican Independence Day celebration.

Mexican independence celebrated at Hartnell

September 16 may be just another day on the calendar to some, but to those of Hispanic origin it means freedom.

Mexican Independence day was celebrated at Hartnell as members of MEChA club presented speakers and cooked a free Mexican meal for about 250 Hartnell community members.

"We felt that we'd like to share this day that we are proud of," said MEChA spokesperson Hermelinda Rocha. "We wanted to share our food—some of our culture—with the students."

The meal consisted of rice, frijoles, salsa, salad, corn tortillas, soft drinks and steak. Everything but the steaks was donated by local businesses.

MEChA purchased the steaks with money from the club treasury.

Hartnell speakers included instructors Roberto Melendez and Aurora Mendez; MEChA leaders Magdalena Jaramillo, Ernesto Rosillo and Hermelinda Rocha; Hartnell superintendent-president Dr. Gibb R. Madsen; and a Student Activist Club (SAC) spokesman.

Several candidates for local school boards appeared at the event. County Affirmative Action Coordinator Gus de laTorre, who is running for the Hartnell board seat currently occupied by Granville Perkins; and attorney Phyllis Turner, who is challenging incumbent Allen Caldeira for one of the two Salinas seats, addressed the crowd of 100 people. Salinas High school board candidate Art Estrella and Alisal Elementary School Board incumbent Pat Perez, who is running for re-election, spoke.

Resignations, appointments occupy ASHC

Resignations and appointments have been keeping student officers busy.

During the summer, the Associated Students of Hartnell College (ASHC) approved the appointment of Robert Porta as commissioner of finance. Previously, Porta lost his campaign against Jim Canaday for the student seat on the board of trustees.

Also during the summer, Micki Cole was appointed commissioner of spring activities. Ms. Cole served in the same capacity during 1978-79.

At the ASHC's Sept. 13 meeting, ASHC President Jeannie Nelson appointed Vickie Aquino as commissioner of communications.

Citing his dislike of paperwork, Pat Walberg has resigned his position as ASHC vice-president. Walberg said he prefers more active work to a desk job.

With these appointments and resignation, the ASHC officially has all but two of its 13 offices filled. In addition to the vice-presidency resigned by Walberg, the student officers are minus a secretary.

Students interested in filling these positions may apply to the ASHC. For more information, contact them at ext. 393.

Ticer will provide assistance to women enrolled at Hartnell; or women interested in attending the college.

Office hours for the advisor are 9 to 11 a.m. and noon to 1 p.m. Monday, Wednesday and Friday; and 9 a.m. to noon Tuesday and Thursday. Ticer's office is located in C-159, ext. 375.
